Engineers fail to explain bills to Councilmen

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Michael Haas of Bay St. Louis, attorney representing engineers Burk and Associates, told the Bay City Council Tuesday night his clients "are not in a position at this time" to deliver a statement on what the City owes his clients.

Council, Haas and Burk and Associates representatives discussed bills from several projects on which Burk was the engineer.

Council President James Thrifflay questioned why a bill was submitted for 48 days of engineering fees when, according to the contractors records which he checked, the project took "only 33 days and four hours."

Thrifflay said he believed in "Only paying someone whatever is due him - but not one penny more."

Councilman Fred Wagner added, "This is part of the reason we are going to fight you."

Councilman Pete Benvenuti said the Council would have to "Mark up this one to education, we have been taken, we have not done our home work."

Council finally approved payment of the fees for the Bouslog Sewer project.

Also approved were several other bills for Burk on projects, and Councilman Harry Favre wondered where "all the money was coming from to pay these bills."

Two bills were taken under advisement for later agreement between both the Council and Burk representatives.

Haas told the Councilmen they were being put on notice that his firm still has a contract with them.

Council moves to secure utility funds

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis Council has requested Engineer Joe Brown to make a proposal on a Small Cities grant of $227,000 for sewer and water improvements to the 500 blocks of Keller, Sycamore and Washington Streets.

The Council at its Tuesday meeting, also set public hearing dates which had to be changed Wednesday morning by City Clerk Eddie Englehorn because of HUD regulation on number of days between hearings.

The hearing dates are now set for Aug. 22 at 7 p.m. and Aug. 31 at 5 p.m.

Council also authorized the hiring of Ronny Murray, Gulf Regional Planning and Zoning Commission, as administrator if the arrangement can be worked out with his employer. Murray did preliminary work on the HUD application.

Mayor Larry Bennett told Council there is a Sept. 15 deadline for pre-application for the HUD Small Cities Program.

Gun-waving caper gets man in jail

Bay St. Louis police chief Douglas Williams reported Wednesday that Tony Vincent, P.O. Box 376, Long Beach, has been charged with public drunk, impersonating an officer, using profane language, possession of concealed weapon and assault with a deadly weapon.

Chief Williams said his department received a call from Larry Labit of New Orleans, La., Sunday evening about 7 p.m. saying a person was waving a gun at him as he drove down U.S. 90 here.

Police said that Labit allegedly reported he stopped at Main Street and Highway 90 and the man also stopped and told him he was a deputy and on the governors staff.

Labit called police, giving them a description of the vehicle and they spotted it in the parking lot of a US-90 lounge. Police entered the lounge and questioned the vehicle's owner and received permission to search his vehicle where they found a snub-nosed .38 colt under a hat, according to Williams.

Arresting officers were Assistant Chief Frank Hess, David Sellar and Louis Hearty. Williams say Vincent has posted a $3,000 bond.

CHAMBER COFFEE HOUR - An overflow crowd showed up at 7:15 a.m. Tuesday at the Wheel Inn to hear guest speaker Leo Seal Jr. at the first Hancock County Chamber of Commerce coffee hour. The Chamber plans a coffee hour each month. Jean Larroux was cooffeeaster and Chamber President Dick Thomas welcomed the guests. L. J. Parks Department audit cites inadequate records

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Dick Thomas, manager of Moore & Powell Certified Public Accounts, presented Bay St. Louis City Council an audit report on the Bay St. Louis Parks and Playgrounds Commission Tuesday.

The audit is for the year ended Sept. 30, 1977, and Moore and Powell noted they were unable to give an opinion because of the lack of a minute book, reportedly misplaced or lost by the commission.

Thomas said a lot of cash was used to pay bills, but receipts were made for all money spent. He told Council to take the report and read it over and if there were any questions, his firm would be happy to get back with them.

According to the report, the Parks and Playgrounds Commission spent a total of $21,712 for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1977.

The recommendations made by Moore and Powell were as follows:

(1) We were unable to review the proceedings of the commission meetings, approval of expenditures and subsequent actions taken thereon due to the absence of the minute book. It is our understanding that the minute book has been misplaced and has not been found as of the conclusion of our audit. We were unable to apply alternate procedures for the above situation, therefore we were unable to express an opinion on the financial statements.

(2) A petty cash fund is presently being maintained by the Director of Parks and Playgrounds in the amount of $375.00. The purpose of this petty cash is to pay for supplies and services at the time of purchase. We recommend that the commission set a dollar limit for any payments disbursed from petty cash any amount exceeding this dollar limit should be paid by check. This would eliminate the need to maintain a large petty cash fund.

(3) We recommend that each invoice be marked paid along with the date and check number to assure proper cancellation of the bills.

(4) We recommend that the treasurer obtain a bound receipt book in which to receipt all funds received by the commission from the various sources. The receipt book should have pre-numbered receipts. Receipts should be completely filled in and indicate the source or purpose of the funds received. The receipts should subsequently be entered in the journal in numerical order. Voided receipts

Total county budget tops $2 million; Sheriff seeks $32 thousand increase

By RICH ADAMS

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner has requested the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to amend his 1979 fiscal year budget, raising his allocation from the $185,000 already approved to $217,000.

The sheriff's 1979 budget had not been received by the board Monday, resulting in the supervisors adoption of last year's figure.

Ladner said Wednesday he was in Mobile with his hospitalized daughter when his budget was due.

"I don't have a secretary to help out my budget won't allow that," the sheriff stated.

Ladner said his new budget was ready yesterday and would be sent to the board by registered mail.

The grand jury has told me five times to get more men on my staff, so I need a bigger budget," he said.

The sheriff estimates the three new deputies he plans to hire will cost $32,000 in salary, Social Security and state retirement, accounting for the budget increase requested.

The total county budget for 1979 is $2,007,623.

Requiem masses for Paul VI tonight at 7

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis and St. Clare's Catholic Church in Waveland are offering Requiem masses in memory of Pope Paul VI Thursday evening at 7 p.m.

The Pope died as the result of a heart attack Sunday, August 6 at his summer palace at Castel Gandolfo in the Alban Hills outside Rome.

His body was transported to St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City Wednesday and will be entombed at St. Peter's Saturday.

Other departmental budgets approved by the Supervisors Monday were Hancock County Soil Conservation, $11,700; Fairgrounds Commission, $22,500; Port and Harbor Commission, $195,000; Gulf Regional Planning Commission, $15,000; Senior Citizens, $36,000; Child Care, under the Welfare Department, $24,000; State Board of Health, $39,900; Hancock County Civil Defense, $27,900; City-County Library System, $48,000; Boy's Home, $27,500; Chamber of Commerce, $31,900; Tax Collector, $127,900; Gulf Coast Mental Health Center, $86,000; and County Extension Office, $16,200.

The budgets for Hancock County supervisors were also approved.

Bert Courrage, Beat One, requested $197,200; A. A. (Dolph) Kellar, Beat

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors this week unanimously denied four objections filed by Hancock County residents pertaining to tax assessments on their property.

Randolph Bourgeois, Ella Rose Carden, Glynn Bannister, all of Bay St. Louis, and Michael J. Coen of Waveland had filed objections with the board claiming the assessments are too high and not in proportion with those on other property of equal value.

Attorney William Frisbie, representing Carden, Bourgeois, and Bannister, said Tuesday he has filed a bill of exceptions to the decision of the board with John Rutherford, clerk of the supervisors, on behalf of the Bannisters.

Frisbie said Rutherford will in turn file the bill of exceptions in Circuit Court.

Lucien Gex, attorney for Coen, told the board the tax assessors office had allegedly used the $100,000 building permit value Coen filed to set the assessed value of his property at $15,000.

Gex listed at least three houses in the area of Coen's with a market value of $90,000 and above that are assessed from $1,800 to $13,000.

No-shows plague Arban, Wildcats lacking depth

Pearl River Junior College's fall football practice begins Sunday when 76 gridiron gladiators are expected to report for the first of two-a-day sessions. Room assignments and equipment will be given out at 1 p.m., with the first squad meeting planned for 3 p.m. Actual two-a-day practice begins Monday morning, August 14, at 9 a.m. Afternoon sessions are on tap for 3 p.m. each afternoon.

"We'll just go out in shorts the first three days," said head coach J. C. Arban, "it will really be a conditioning period before the pads are put on." According to Arban, 76 players are expected to report for gear and assignments, "but they may not all show up," the head coach for the past three years quickly pointed out. "I really never know how many to expect," Arban said, "because a few will decide not to come at the last minute."

Already Arban knows of no less than eight players that will definitely not don the maroon and gold jerseys this fall. And the news has the 43-year-old Arban singing the blues. "I have three sophomore starters from last year's squad that are definitely not coming back, and five freshman linemen who will not be on hand for one reason or another," he explained. "I really had anticipated that the line would be the strong point of our team this year," Arban confessed, "but since these fellows aren't coming, I'm afraid the lack of depth in the trenches will just be another big problem."

An inexperienced defensive backfield and the lack of speed in the offensive back field is already raising some eyebrows, especially with the dwindling of the offensive and defensive line. A good point for the Wildcats is that all starting positions on the offensive and defensive units can be filled by sophomores, but the problem is these two year men are not all lettermen, nor did they play the same positions a year ago. "We have some problems," Arban said, "but I still think we could have a good football team, but only time and the first game will tell." PRC's first contest is at home in Poplarville Saturday, Sept. 2 against Northeast.

PR's Central High plans horse show

Pearl River Central High School Band Boosters of Pearl River will sponsor a large Walking-Racing Horse Show Saturday at 7 p.m.

The show will be held at the Walking "G" Stables showgrounds at Carriere, six miles north of Picayune. Show horses from four states are expected, and complete concession will be available. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for students.

Lipton mixed doubles set for Diamondhead

The Lipton Mixed Doubles Championship Gulf States Regional Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday at Diamondhead Country Club in Bay St. Louis.

Twelve amateur teams from Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky will compete in the event, according to Allen Shapter, Diamondhead's tournament director. Lipton Iced Tea sponsors and Tennis magazine conducts the event.

The top two teams from this tournament will participate in the Lipton World of Doubles to be held September 11-17, at the Woodlands Inn and Country Club, Woodlands, Texas, where they will vie with winning teams from eleven other regional tournaments. The finals, part of the Lipton

World of Doubles, will also feature the world's 32 leading men's doubles teams playing for $125,000 in prize money.

Rebel women cagers vie for team slots

Van Chancellor is facing a unique situation in his position as women's basketball coach at the University of Mississippi in trying to find the right starting lineup. In addition, he says he is having trouble even narrowing it down to 10 players.

Chancellor has taken direction of a program which has never had a losing season and just last year won its first state title, that over defending national champion Delta State.

That squad recorded the most wins in a season for a Lady Rebel team and snapped a 56-game court winning streak in beating Delta at Cleveland for the crown.

In addition to that big victory, Ole Miss captured the championship of the Bulldog Classic over five other SEC teams and finished second in the AIAW regionals. Its third place finish in the AIAW Eastern Satellite tourney placed it among the nation's top 12 teams.

With six of the top seven scorers back (including the four best point producers) the lineup returns virtually intact. Add to that a host of top flight newcomers and you can see why Lady Rebel followers are even more enthusiastic about this season.

After leading Harrison Central High School to two straight grand slams en route to consecutive state titles, Chancellor has moved into the college ranks. He brings a 14-year winning percentage of 81 per cent with him.

For the first game he has available two members of the Lady Rebel 1000-point club, Peggie Gillom and Glenda Springfield.

A 6-0 forward, Gillom was selected Honorable Mention All-America by Women's Basketball League and led the club in scoring last season with an 18.0 average. Other top scorers were Jeanne Lloyd at 12.1, Springfield with 10.2 and Cathy Casteel at 8.9.

Only two players were signed to scholarships but both are bluechippers.

Kris Stratton was selected the top prospect in Mississippi by the state's magazine. Forward Lisa Turton was first team All-State in Georgia and named Georgia's top prospect by Women's Basketball Scouting Service.

Three transfers are on hand. Connie Winstead transferred from Mississippi College after one year. The 6-0 center averaged 16 points and 13 rebounds at MC last year and the year before garnered second team All-America honors at Gulf Coast Junior College. A teammate of hers at MC, Terri Shores averaged 15 points per contest last year and dished out 200 assists.

She won't be the only new guard since Renee Rutland is coming from Mississippi University for Women where she averaged seven points and 9.8 assists a game.

Add to the picture a bundle of walkons and it becomes obvious that a starting lineup will be hard to pick. But that really won't be a problem with Chancellor's game philosophy.

"I hope to institute an aggressive style of play with a pressing defense and running offense. I plan to substitute a lot so everyone on the team should see extensive action," he said.

Of course the style of play installed by the new coach will depend on how his material fits together. But he is known to prefer the type of fast paced game that fans love to see. At tournament time, the Lady Rebs hope to earn more than just applause.

State hunters may get fewer ducks

Early indications from federal and state officials show Mississippi duck hunters may have more days to hunt this year but fewer ducks in their game bag.

If preliminary recommendations are unchanged and accepted by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington after a 10-day public comment period, state duck hunters will have a 50-day season beginning December 2, 1978 and extending through January 20, 1979.

In addition, hunters this year may be permitted only three mallard ducks daily due to additional protection given the species by the Service and a second consecutive decline in the breeding production of this bird. However, federal waterfowl biologists expect the overall fall flight of ducks southward will be similar to that of 1977.

"Fish and Wildlife biologists tell us that there has been a seven percent reduction in the mallard population over last year," Game and Fish Director Joe Stone said. "Their tentative recommendations will be to permit hunters to harvest only three ducks daily instead of four like we did last year."

The Fish and Wildlife Service will also propose that the widgeon duck be devalued from a 25-point to a 10-point bird. All other ducks will retain their same point values as last year, Stone said. Each species of ducks has a certain point valuation depending upon their population status. Hunters are permitted to harvest birds daily until they reach 100 points.

Final dates on the waterfowl season are expected to be announced by August 25.

Pearson named to Ole Miss sports staff

George Pearson, a graduate student at the University of Mississippi, has joined the sports information staff at Ole Miss as Women's Information Coordinator, Athletic Director Warner Alford has announced.

Pearson will be in charge of coordinating all publicity for the Lady Rebel athletic teams, including statistics, releases and press guides.

"RUNNING FOR HEALTH AND BEAUTY"

BANTAM BOOKS

BY KATHRYN LANCE

It's no secret that America has become a nation of runners, yet until now there has been little information available geared specifically to the woman runner.

On August 1, Bantam Books published "RUNNING FOR HEALTH AND BEAUTY" by Kathryn Lance, a complete, medically responsible guide designed for "every level of female runner."

"RUNNING FOR HEALTH AND BEAUTY" shows individuals how to integrate running into their lives regardless of age, physical condition and life style.

Included is everything a runner might want to know about reaping the maximum benefit from this invaluable exercise: how, when and where to run; what to wear; dieting; older women; how to deal with hasslers; embarrassment; hazards; what to think about while running; how to stick with it; how to run competitively and why — and much more.

Five years ago, when job pressures and a premature rundown body sent Kathryn Lance's blood pressure soaring into the danger zone, she began to run. Within a year, she witnessed her own metamorphosis and became a staunch supporter of running.

"Running can change your appearance, your body, your disposition and your life," says thirty-four-year-old Lance. "One year after I started running, my body completely changed. One night when I was taking a shower, I realized that I wasn't flabby anywhere and for a moment I had the spooky feeling that I had inhabited someone else's body."

Why running as opposed to other forms of exercise? "I believe it's the best possible sport for women because you see and feel the results more quickly," Lance says. "When I first started running, I was the only woman on the track. Now, on cold winter nights, there are more women out there than men. It's never too late to improve your physical condition."

Author Lance, who now makes her home in New York City, was born in El Paso, Texas, and received her master's degree in Russian from the University of Arizona. She has worked as a script writer for the soap operas "All My Children" and "One Life to Live" and as an editor for Scholastic Magazines.

Her second book, Getting Strong was published in April by Bobbs-Merrill and will be published by Bantam in paperback next year.

Catledge heads media panel at USM October symposium

Mississippi-born Turner Catledge, former editor of The New York Times, will headline a noted panel of media people and others at a unique symposium on the "Sense of Place in Mississippi" Oct. 5-6 on the University of Southern Mississippi campus.

A forum for investigating what is distinctive about the state's land and people, according to its directors, Dr. Peggy Preshaw of the USM Department of English and Dr. Jesse McKee of the University's Department of Geography.

Catledge, who now makes his home in New Orleans, will be among a special panel on Mississippi in the media, which will include Paul Pittman of the Tylertown Times, Rea Hederman of the Clarion-Ledger and Bert Case of WLBT-TV.

Mini-quarter

USM session draws 600

Over 600 attended this year's opening Mini-Quarter session a pre-registration program for freshmen and transfer students, underway this summer on the University of Southern Mississippi campus here.

This program, sponsored by USM's High School and Junior College Relations, is destined to provide new students with USM information pertinent to campus life.

Among those attending from Bay St. Louis were Paul K. Cox, Jr., Edgar W. Santa Cruz III, David W. Depreo, Linda A. Overall, from Clermont Harbor, Michal D. Cure and from Waveland, Sherri L. Voss.

Other panels on architectural styles, early settlement patterns, food tastes, music, religion, historic preservation and economic growth are also scheduled.

Other notables scheduled to participate in the symposium include Willie Morris, author of "North Toward Home" and "The Last of the Southern Girls"; James Silver, author of "Mississippi: The Closed Society"; Will Campbell, author of "Brother To a Dragonfly"; Frank Smith, author of "Congressman From Mississippi" and "The Yazoo River"; T.D. Young, a southern literature scholar and professor of English at Vanderbilt and Pierce Lewis, geographer from Pennsylvania State University.

Funded by the Mississippi Committee for the Humanities and USM, the symposium program will include panel discussions, addresses, musical performances, folklife displays and art exhibits.

McKee serves as project director and Preshaw as coordinator.

Additional information is available by writing USM, Southern Station Box 468, Hattiesburg, 39401.

Coast group sends five to diabetic summer camp

Mary Lynn Ladner, 14, of Dedeaux, is among several Gulf Coast children attending Camp Whispering Pine for diabetics.

Her trip is sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Diabetic Association. The camp is located in Tangipahoa Parish near Independence, La.

Carolyn Washer, association secretary, is a camp counselor.

Purpose of the camp is to provide a camping experience for children who would otherwise be able to attend camp because of their diabetes, she said.

"Campers will live, eat and play with diabetics their own age, some for the first time," Ms. Washer pointed out.

The association meets on the second Thursday of each month at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, US-90, Gulfport, she noted.

"Anyone with an interest in diabetes is invited and encouraged to attend our meetings," Ms. Washer added.

For further information, write Box 1161, Gulfport, 39501.

Other children attending the camp under auspices of the Coast association include Margie Seymour, 13; Jackie Tims, 11; Linda O'Neal, 12; and Terrie Yeager, 10.

The group will return Saturday, Aug. 19.

State GOP 'Victory Dinners' slated Aug. 25 in Jackson

Rep. Trent Lott (R-Miss) has been named honorary chairman of the Mississippi Republican Party Victory '78 Dinner, according to Mike Retzer, state GOP chairman.

The dinner, scheduled for August 25 in Jackson, will feature Rep. Jack Kemp (R-NY) as keynote speaker. Dr. Kenneth Oates of Jackson is the chairman of the fundraising event.

Kemp is co-author of the Roth-Kemp Tax Reduction Act, a proposal to cut personal income taxes by 30 percent over three years.

Lott who is unopposed for reelection in the Gulf Coast Fifth District serves on the Rules and Post Office and Civil Service Committees in the House.

Mike Retzer, state Republican Party chairman, said, "We are very fortunate

Subject giant unions to anti-trust laws, foundation urges

A government study commission was urged this week to make labor unions subject to the antitrust laws. In a written statement to the National Commission for the Review of Antitrust Laws and Procedures, S. Rayburn Watkins, president of the National Labor-Management Foundation said, "Our antitrust laws would prevent a single steel company from obtaining monopoly control over the steel industry in this country, or a single automobile maker from eliminating all competition in the manufacture and sale of automobiles.

Yet the laws permit one giant union to dominate the control of labor supply of the steel industry and other giant unions to control the labor supply in the automobile industry."

Present interpretations of the law permit unions to set up labor monopolies which "stifle competition in the labor market and fix the price of labor."

Because labor costs constitute the largest cost item in most production processes, union monopoly power has a major impact on the prices consumers pay for goods and services," Mr. Watkins continued.

"Free market, rather than monopolistic practices in the labor market would help boost productivity and vitality in the nation's economy. The general public would reap the benefits," Mr. Watkins said.

The Foundation President also pointed out that a survey conducted in 1977 by Opinion Research Corporation showed 60 percent of the American people favor bringing unions under the antitrust laws.

Amending present law to make unions subject to the antitrust laws would not stop them from organizing, engaging in collective bargaining, or other activities authorized by the National Labor Relations Act, so long as they did not establish labor monopolies or engage in restraint of trade. The NLRA and the antitrust laws would complement each other.

"Legal questions concerning application of the antitrust laws to unions would be left for the Courts to decide - as has been the case in applying the laws to business. The process would be simplified by the years of experience gained in building a body of law, which now applies to business firms," Mrs. Watkins concluded.

OST Baptists host week of revival

A week of revival services at Old Spanish Trail Baptist Church, US-90 West, Waveland, is set for Sunday through Friday, August 18, with seven area pastors and missionaries as speakers.

The Sunday services will be at the usual Sunday hours with Dr. L. S. Walker, pastor, bringing the morning and evening messages.

The following speakers will be heard at 7:30 p.m., Monday through Friday: Rev. Jewell L. Prince, Rev. L. D. Whitfield, Rev. G. C. Stockstill, Rev. L. R. Lewis and Rev. Randy Brunn, all ministers of Hancock County churches.

Several area singing groups will sing during the week. These will include the Wolf Creek Baptist Church Singers, the Gospel Echoes from Slidell, the Old Spanish Trail Baptist Church Ladies Trio and others.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Sheriff's efforts commended

Dear Sir:

I would like to commend Sheriff Ladner and his deputies for the response to our call for help in catching trash throwers in Garden Island.

The following deputies took part in helping us track them down: Ronnie Petersen, Delbert Seay, and Deputy Alvin Ladner. Thanks also to Deputy Leo Woods for quickly dispatching the cars to us. We also want to thank our Best Supervisor, Mr. James N. Travirca for sending his men to help us and going to Poyayne to get signs for Garden Island.

Had these people not cooperated as they did, Garden Island would be known today as Garden Dump.

Highway parking

Dear Sir:

I would like to use this means of informing the people of Hancock County and surrounding area of a problem facing us.

There have been complaints of cars parked on US-90 in front of my business. I would like to make it known that I have done everything I can about stopping the problem.

I have asked the State Highway Department for assistance but received no response what-so-ever. I have wanted to put up 'No Parking on Shoulder' signs myself, but was informed that this is against the law.

I would like to ask the Highway Department again in this manner if they can help me.

There also are dangerous holes along the shoulder of the Highway which may cause an accident which could result in injury or death.

The blame will then be placed at my step.

I know as a business owner, I should have an adequate parking area, and I would like to speak to someone about solving the matter as soon as possible.

And I would like to thank the Sea Coast Echo for this opportunity to express my opinion at no charge.

Sincerely

Where's the animal shelter

Dear Sir:

At a public meeting last year City Council was asked and agreed to appropriate $10,000 of Federal Revenue Sharing money toward construction of an animal shelter. I know it was included in the Revenue Sharing Budget, as it was published in the Echo.

As a member of the Humane Society I have called Mayor Bennett and was told that this money could not be used for an animal shelter as it was needed for the streets which I consider a violation of Federal law.

Also, if there is not enough money for streets, why is the Mayor installing a fancy telephone system in City Hall

As for the 80 students already transferred, Randolph believes the students can legally remain in Bay St. Louis schools.

"Once released, always released, according to public law," said Randolph.

Randolph stated that a recall of the 80 students would significantly effect the Bay St. Louis budget, through the loss of a $250 tuition per person collected from the transfer students.

Randolph stated he will apply again for federal construction funds.

"With the influx of federal personnel in our area, our school district may very well increase federal membership enrollment this year allowing us to be granted these construction funds," Randolph added.

"If we had the 80 students we've already released, the school district wouldn't have enough classroom space to serve them," he continued.

"At this point, two weeks prior to school opening, we are lacking eight classrooms and if renovations are not completed at Hancock North Central, where three classrooms and a new cafeteria are being added, we might not be able to open school on August 18," Randolph added.

Deco Construction Company of Gulfport, contractor on the HNC job, has stated the class rooms will be available on opening day, but Randolph "has some reservations." "The cafeteria personnel are not properly trained in the use of the ultra-modern equipment in the new cafeteria and previous plans for a three-day workshop in the operation and maintenance of the equipment may be delayed," Randolph continued.

"If completion of construction is late, up to the opening day of school, it may delay the opening of the cafeteria in order to train the personnel," he added.

A delay in opening the cafeteria would not warrant a delay in school opening, the students would just have to bring their lunch for the first few days, Randolph explained.

Randolph said the district is 14 classrooms short and is operating out of four "beat-up" trailers at HNC.

The Hancock County District has the fifth greatest percentage of In-should be clearly indicated and copies kept intact.

(5) It came to our attention that the crease of student enrollment in the state over a ten year period," stated Randolph.

Figures show the district went from an enrollment of 1,249 students in 1967 to 1,931 in 1977, while the Bay St. Louis District went down in enrollment from 2,119 in 1967 to 2,071 in 1977, the superintendent noted.

HNC recorded an increase of 452 students between 1967 and 1977.

The old cafeteria at HNC served 188 students at one sitting, while the new cafeteria under construction will have a seating capacity of 550 students and will be air conditioned.

"The only solution to the educational facility problem in the district is for the people of Hancock County to approve a bond issue to provide educational facilities for children who are now enrolled and for those families wanting to locate in the Hancock County District," Randolph continued.

"The most feasible and best solution in my opinion would be to locate a new junior-senior high school in the southern end of the county which would serve the communities of Diamondhead, Pearlinton, Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor, Bayou Phillips and any other community that would like to join our system," he added.

PARK AUDIT...

voided receipts should be clearly indicated and all copies kept in tact.

(5) It came to our attention that the fence covering the area adjoining the pier constructed by the Parks and Playground Commission has expired. We suggest that appropriate action be taken to renegotiate the lease or that the commission take appropriate action to relieve it of any contingent liability.

(6) Inventory. We suggest that at the end of summer activities and at the end of the fiscal year a complete inventory be taken of supplies and equipment that is owned and on hand. This inventory list could serve as a reference when preparing the next year's budget of needed supplies and equipment and to avoid purchasing unnecessary supplies and et. We also recommend that all supplies and equipment be safely stored in a central location and properly identified as the commission's property.

SALARY NEGOTIATIONS - Bay St. Louis firemen are not happy with some of their number being paid below minimum wage rates and appeared informally before the City Council Monday to discuss the department budget for the coming year. On duty firemen took the fire trucks to City Hall to appear before the Council as a group and still be ready to answer calls. We feel no one should be paid below the minimum wage. With other city department workers needing higher salaries, the problem the City faces is just like anyone not easily solved. Everything has increased in price. We wish we knew the answer. Supervisors approve resurfacing

Commission asks County funds for major park improvements

By RICH ADAMS

A. C. Jones, chairman of the Hancock County Park Commission, has requested financial aid from the County's Board of Supervisors for repairs and improvements of McLeod Park.

According to Jones, groups of Seabees from the Twentieth Naval Construction Regiment in Gulfport have offered assistance in a two-phase improvement project by supplying labor and equipment to complete construction of restrooms, boat launch, road repairs and camper loops in the park.

Chief Petty Officer Christian Bodenschatz of the Twentieth Naval Construction Regiment Operations Office stated Seabees will begin the first phase of construction on a roof for restrooms and road repairs the third week in November.

Phase two will begin January 2 through March 31, 1979, and will include construction on camper loops, road repairs, a ranger station, and ranger huts. The construction will be done by reserves and crews will change every two weeks.

Norton Haas, Pearl River Basin Development District commissioner, stated approximately $110,000 will be coming into the park commission, but funds for construction materials are needed now.

The supervisors took the matter under advisement.

Also at the board's Monday meeting, Robert Boudin, director of Hancock County Civil Defense, gave a report to the board concerning evacuation of the Coast in case of a hurricane.

He stated the Tri-County Civil Defense Service has set up a time-schedule for evacuation of the Gulf Coast.

The schedule is designed to avoid major traffic jams on Hwy. 49 between the Coast and Hattiesburg in the event of an evacuation.

Louis Fernandez, president of the Hancock County Historical Society, asked for financial aid for restoration of Pearlinton cemeteries and historical areas.

Board rejects 10 cent hike in school lunches

By RICH ADAMS

A request to increase lunch prices from 50 cents to 60 cents in Hancock County schools was defeated Wednesday morning as the County School Board continued a recess meeting from the previous day.

The reason given for the defeat, according to Board President Woodrow Ladner, is that 69 percent of students in the system will receive free lunches, eight percent will get lunches at a reduced price, and the board feels it would be unfair to the 23 percent of the students paying for their lunches to have to bear the price increase.

Superintendent Terry Randolph reported the district receives 78 cents from the government for each free lunch provided, and the average cost of preparing a meal, including labor and equipment, is 85 cents per meal.

The district reported a $18,000 average cost factor loss on meals last year which is being reimbursed by the government.

Oris Ladner's move to deny the increase in price, seconded by Monvel Cuevas, was accepted with John Banks abstaining.

"I voted against the increase so we can try the 50 cent lunches for a few months to see how it works," said Cuevas.

"If it is necessary, we can raise the price later," he added.

A bid by Mississippi School Supply Company of Jackson for purchase of two football scoreboards for Charles B. Murphy and Gulfview Elementary Schools was accepted by the board. The cost for delivery and installation of the scoreboards is $5,500.

A bid by Newkirk Construction Company of Hancock County to construct a concession stand at Hancock North Central Senior High School was accepted at a cost of $21,000.

A contract for gasoline for buses was awarded to Chevron USA Company of Atlanta, Ga. Premium gasoline will be priced at 50.9 cents a gallon and regular will go at 49.9 cents a gallon, excluding taxes.

Central School Supply of Jackson was awarded a contract to construct football bleachers at HNC to accommodate 500 people at a cost of $11,250.

The district will advertise for bids on an infrared motion detecting alarm system to be installed in the schools.

When activated, the alarm will automatically dial five telephone numbers and will notify the sheriff and four members of the school staff that a burglary is taking place.

Randolph proposes ban on undeserved promotions

By RICH ADAMS

A lengthy discussion of social promotions in the Hancock County School District was held in the closing hours of a lengthy district school board meeting Monday night.

"There is a considerable amount of social promotion in the school district, and I recommend that a policy be officially adopted by the school board to make social promotion a thing of the past," Superintendent Terry Randolph said later.

"The policy of social promotions began in the 1960's when educational philosophers thought it would be best to promote a student to the next higher grade instead of retaining him because of the social problems that might be caused by maladjustment for the student," Randolph continued.

"In my opinion as well as those of other educators, social promotion has caused numerous other problems such as relaxed study habits."

"Children who are passed from one grade to a higher grade may have failed to learn how to read in the lower grades and cannot compete in junior and senior high school subjects," he added.

The consensus of the board favored Randolph's suggestion that social promotion be banned in elementary schools, but took no action on the question.

"I will pursue this matter," said Randolph. "I will submit a policy to the board to discontinue social promotions especially in the lower grades."

"The exception to this rule would be a potential high school dropout who might then be a hindrance to society," Randolph continued.

"Such a student would be socially promoted at the discretion of the administrator in senior high school," he said.

Randolph pointed out Hancock School District is not the only system with the social promotion problem.

"Everybody does it. We're involved in a 'get tough' policy on the issue now, but I am not in any way saying that Hancock County School District is the only one that promotes this way," Randolph explained.

"I intend to prohibit any such promotions in the future and the ultimate responsibility for whether a student passes or fails will rest with the teacher regardless of any effort on the part of principals or any other higher-up," the superintendent continued.

Also at the meeting, the board accepted the resignation of Lester Gray from Hancock North Central Elementary where he was a fifth grade teacher, and the resignation of Doyle Smith, social studies teacher at HNC.

New personnel employed by the district include Barbara Cropp of Waveland, guidance counselor at HCN Senior High; Carrol Baxter Gilreath, fifth grade teacher at HNC Elementary; Robert Sams and Linda Wedgeworth, study hall monitors at HNC; Patricia Schultz, elementary teacher at HNC; Martha Ann Booke, teacher at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School; Benita Farve, English teacher at HNC Junior High; Merle Segari, English-social studies teacher at HNC; Gay Lusich, teacher at Gulfview Elementary; and Marie Wallace, janitor at HNC Elementary.

The board approved advertisement for bids on band instruments for the junior and senior high schools.

All school district employees, including cafeteria workers, were awarded a ten percent across the board raise for the 1978-79 school year.

Board Member Louie Ladner moved that certified letters be sent to all persons leasing 16 section land allowing the lessees 30 days to bring leases up to date. If there is no response from the lessees within 30 days, their leases would be cancelled, his motion provided.

The proposal was taken under advisement.

The board approved a motion to print a student handbook for the coming school year.

In order for the City to proceed with the Sewer work on this project owners of over 50 percent of the front footage had to approve.

With more than 50 percent against, Councilmen Pete Benvenuti said, "We tried to give you a way to get sewerage there - to help develop the property, now we have nothing else to do but vote against it."

Benvenuti made the motion to kill the project which was seconded by Councilmen Wagner.

In other actions: -Council approved the Motor Vehicle assessment for 1978-1979.

-Failed to accept minutes of Planning and Zoning Commission due to lack of such minutes. Councilmen Benvenuti added, "This is getting frustrating - they changed their meetings so we could get their minutes; we should request a meeting with them like they did with us."

Received Electrical Examining Board minutes, which when read showed there was no business for consideration.

-Heard a representative from Southwest Utilities and one from South Central Bell on telephone installations at City Hall.

-Voted to give $200 to the Waveland Civic Association for its annual Fireworks over Labor Day. Councilman Benvenuti voted against the donation, saying "I can't see giving the taxpayers money away to go up in the air in smoke."

Senior Art Show opens Friday at Bay Library

Food supplement program funds boosted by USDA

Mississippi will receive an additional $259,800 to operate the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). The additional funds are part of a $7.7 million reallocation announced by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman. The reallocation is the last in a series which started in February 1977. According to the reallocation plan, USDA's Food and Nutrition Service sets a maximum expenditure level for states.

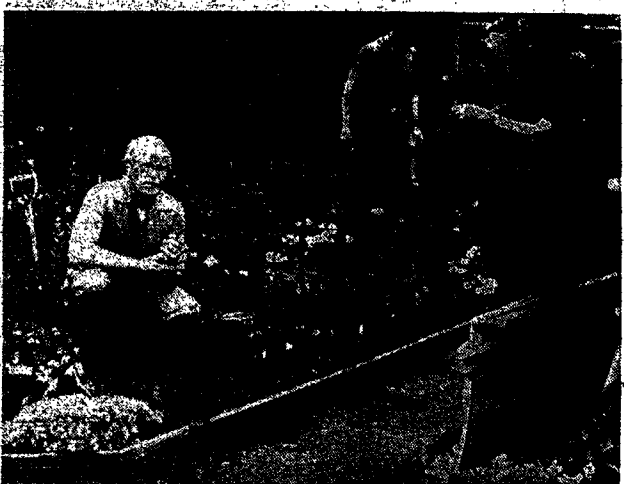

Unspent funds are recovered and redistributed to agencies with high expenditure levels. To share in this reallocation, states had to spend at least 95 percent of the WIC money available for May 1978.

The $7.7 million includes money not spent during the previous fiscal periods and funds recovered from states that did not reach expenditure levels of 95 percent in May. This money can be used between July and September 1978.

"The reallocation process was designed to make benefits available to more women, infants, and children. The growth of the program is evidence that the reallocation process has worked," Ms. Foreman said.

Latest estimates show there are approximately 1.2 million women, infants and children participating in the WIC Program - 400,000 more than February 1977, when the reallocation began.

Mississippi has 35,466 recipients on the program. The WIC Program serves pregnant and nursing women, infants, and children up to five years of age. To be eligible, applicants must be at "nutritional risk" because of poor or inadequate diet and low income. Participants get monthly food packages of baby formula or milk, cereal, eggs, cheese, and juice.

GREEN THUMB OF TV - Jim Crockett, America's best-known gardener, sets a good example for those who grow their own on "Crockett's Victory Garden" every Sunday at 3:30 p.m. on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

Music Festival in Hattiesburg draws musicians

The University of Southern Mississippi's 28th annual Southern Fine Arts Festival brought high school students from five states to the band, orchestra and string camps in Hattiesburg last week.

Officials said some 350 students took part in the second week of the camp. The Festival's first week was composed of camps for rifle, twirling, dance and show camps for auxiliary band members.

Combined figures for the festival, directed by Kelly Love, show an attendance of approximately 1,100. Those attending from Bay St. Louis include Gary Adam, Glenn France, Sarah Gibson, Virginia Marie MacMillan, Anne Marie Scaffidi, Thomas Wild, Annie Wilkinson and Joe Wusnack and from Waveland, Stephen Maggio.

Service marks group's 100th anniversary

The Promote Benevolent Association will celebrate its 100th year anniversary on Sunday, August 13, at 11 a.m. at the First Missionary Baptist Church, corner of Sycamore and Third Street in Bay St. Louis.

The Rev. Lawrence Collins, pastor of the church will deliver the anniversary sermon.

The organization was founded August 12, 1878, by Joseph Graves, Joseph Labat, James Alexis, John E. Milandes, Edgar D. Predeaux, and Peter Benoit. The first home was located on Second Street which is now the present site of Jitney Jungle Food Store.

The organization, which presently meets at Peter Claver Association Home on Easterbrook Street, has paid out thousands of dollars for the relief of the sick and to beneficiaries of departed members.

Paul M. Lewis, president since 1974, said there will not be any other formal centennial celebration.

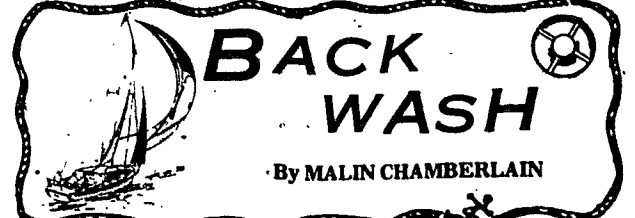

Jacobs sisters take Carey ME degrees

Two sisters from Bay St. Elizabeth Jane Jacobs and Janet Eathleen Jacobs Chapman were among some 150 Carey students whose degrees were conferred on August 6.

Miss Jacobs has served as secretary of North Bay P. T. O. for the past year. She is also building representative for North Bay School and has served on the executive council for the Bay St. Louis Educational Association.

Mrs. Chapman was listed in the 1973 edition of "Outstanding Elementary Teachers of America." She serves as adult advisor for the Catholic Youth Organization of Our Lady of the Gulf Parish.

Mrs. John T. Jacobs of Route 2, Bay St. Louis, is their mother.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 12: BAY-WAVELAND YACHT CLUB Adult Members will feature their big Mid-Summer Dance and Breakfast Dancing to the five-piece jazz band of Jay Heitzman - 8 p.m. to midnight.

Corps' New Orleans District, $200 million budget under new commander

Leadership of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers civil works activities in much of Louisiana and parts of northeast Texas and extreme western Mississippi and Arkansas was handed over this week to Colonel Thomas A. Sands by Colonel Early J. Rush III during a "change of command" ceremony in New Orleans.

Colonel Rush had been the Corps New Orleans District Engineer since August, 1975. Highlighting a colorful ceremony was the exchange of the District Engineers' flag, the traditional Corps castle outlined in white on a field of vivid red.

This presentation was followed by the more localized custom of the outgoing District Engineer presenting Colonel Sands with a personalized white hardhat, as Rush put it, "to protect you from those headaches that can come from unexpected places, as well as those that are built into the job."

As the New District Engineer, Colonel Sands will be responsible for all Corps flood control and navigation projects in a 47,000 square-mile area. These include the massive Mississippi River and Tributaries project in Louisiana below the latitude of Old River; four hurricane protection projects in coastal Louisiana, the best known being the Lake Pontchartrain and the Vicinity hurricane project; the 40-foot deep ship channel in the Mississippi River below Baton Rouge, which serves New Orleans and Baton Rouge, the second and fourth largest ports in the nation, respectively; the scenic and environmentally unique Atchafalaya River and Floodway; the Calcasieu River below Lake Charles; the shallow-draft Gulf Intracoastal Waterway; and the rapidly accelerating navigation project for Red River in northwestern Louisiana.

The annual construction program for the District, which is managed by the District Engineer, is for well over $200 million.

Colonel Sands' responsibilities also will include regulation of construction and dredge and fill activities in more than 7 million acres of marshes and estuaries in coastal Louisiana, representing 40 percent of the total coastal marsh area of the continental United States.

His district therefore processes far more permits for work in wetlands and navigable waterways than any other Corps district nationwide.

Colonel Sands is a native of Tennessee and a 1958 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy in civil engineering from Texas A&M University. His military schooling includes attendance at the Armed Forces Staff College and the Army War College.

Early in his Army Career, he was assigned as resident engineer in the Corps' Far East Division, Korea. In Vietnam, he served as executive officer of the U. S. Army Engineer Command, and later was battalion commander of the 28th Engineer Battalion, 23 Infantry Division. From 1974 to 1975, he was assistant director of urban studies in the Civil Works Directorate, Office of the Chief of Engineers.

He comes to New Orleans from Alexandria, Va., where he was assigned to the U. S. Army Military Personnel Center.

He is married to the former Miss Barbara Noles of Santa Barbara, Cal. They have a daughter Jennifer, age five.

Colonel Rush's next assignment will be at Fort Polk, La., where he will be the facilities engineer.

USM rehab project funded thru 1979

A project to train students for entry level positions in various types of social and rehabilitation settings, such as location rehabilitation, mental health retardation programs, social work activities, employment services and youth corrections is underway at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Project director Dr. James Culbertson said the project, an integral university program, is basically "on-going" and offers majors in social and rehabilitation services at the undergraduate level. "We normally have 100 to 150 majors in the program," Culbertson said of the seventh year funding for the BS degree training level.

USM staff consultants include Dr. Dan Sturgis, Dr. James Hollingsworth, Dr. John Alcorn and Dr. Charles Probst.

The project has been refunded for the Sept. 1, 1978 to Aug. 31, 1979 period in the amount of $7,7240.

Carey, State open fall tennis slate

Facing its most ambitious schedule in history, the 1978 Mississippi State women's tennis team will be involved in a rugged fall slate of matches.

After going 9-6 last spring, the Lady Bulldog netters will open the autumn end of their ledger with a Sept. 22 dual match on the MSU courts against William Carey.

Also included on the schedule are five round-robin weekends where Coach Libba Birmingham's crew will be facing multiple opponents in dual battles.

These weekend sojourns include matches at Murray, Ky., Auburn, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., Mississippi University for Women in Columbus, and Mobile, Ala.

The young team, which did not lose a player to graduation in 1978, returns all seven veterans from the spring MSU contingent, a third-place finisher in the Mississippi AIAW Playoffs hosted by State.

Three seniors dot the roster, and they include Jackson's Cheryl Measells, Lisa Lang of Las Vegas, Nev., and Betsy Perry of Columbus.

Returning juniors are last year's No. 1 singles player, Cindy Weckwarth of Huntsville, Ala., and Leslie Giltz of Pompano Beach, Fla.

Sophomores Jean Gurney of Cleveland, Miss., and Liz Boykin of Jackson are also seasoned hands in both Mississippi open play and the collegiate wars.

Coach Birmingham is particularly elated, however, over the 1978 recruiting year, which produced freshmen Debbie Dotson of Winona and Leigh Morel of Franklin, Tenn., along with junior Jeannie Swain of Miami (Fla.) Dade Junior College.

Dotson is the top-rated 18-year-old in Mississippi and three-time defending MHSAA tennis singles champion while Morel and Swain are experienced in competition against national-class netwomen.

The 1978 MSU fall women's tennis schedule: Sept. 22, William Carey, campus; Sept. 29-30, Eastern Kentucky, Southern Illinois, Murray State, at Murray, Ky.; Oct. 13-14, Auburn Invitational, Auburn, Ala.; Oct. 20-21, Memphis State, South-western at Memphis, Alabama - Huntsville, at Memphis, Tenn.; Miss. Univ. for Women, Florida State, Mississippi, at Columbus, Miss., on Oct. 27-28; Nov. 2, Memphis State, campus; Nov. 3 at Alabama; Nov. 9-10 at South Alabama.

Elementary pre-registration set for next week

Students entering Gulfview Elementary School for the first time in the 1978-79 school year have been urged to pre-register in the school office.

First graders entering school for the first time and transfer students in other grades should pre-register according to Harlan Hill, principal.

Parents are reminded that Mississippi law requires a beginning first grader to be six-years-old by November 1, 1978, Hill said.

Parents may come by the office of the school during the hours of 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. August 14, 15 and 16 to complete the necessary registration forms.

First graders will need certified birth certificates and an immunization record. All students entering school for the 1978-1979 school year must have up to date immunization records.

Parents are urged to make every effort to see that their children are pre-registered for the coming year, Hill emphasized.

Pre-registration urged at Bay high schools

Students planning to attend the Bay St. Louis Junior or Senior High School for the first time, other than those moving up from Waveland or North Bay Elementary Schools, should pre-register as soon as possible, according to W. J. Cameron, Junior High principal.

Offices at both the Junior and Senior High Schools are open every day between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Students should not wait until regular registration day on August 22, but should register immediately, Cameron emphasized.

Rebels slate fall drill opening Friday

Coach Steve Sloan reports the University of Mississippi Rebels will launch fall football drills on Aug. 18.

Sloan said that the players will report the evening of Aug. 18. The following day will include physical exams and a Meet the 1978 Rebels session.

The Meet the Rebels event, scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Aug. 17, will be co-sponsored by the Oxford-Lafayette County Alumni Chapter. Rebel fans are invited to bring their cameras for picture taking with their favorite players.

Coach Sloan has asked all fans who wish to become honorary assistant coaches at Ole Miss for the 1978 season to be on hand and they will be presented with a special coaches card signed by Coach Sloan.

The alumni chapter President Will Lewis Jr., also announced that autographed pictures of Coach Sloan will be made available to the youngsters attending.

Sloan said that fall drills will open with three-a-day sessions running through Aug. 21. The first three days' work will be conducted without pads. The Rebels will switch to full gear on Tuesday, Aug. 22.

In addition to the 95 scholarship players reporting, more than 100 walk-ons are expected in the Rebel camp. The Rebels have tentatively scheduled scrimmages for 10 a.m. on Aug. 26 and Sept. 2. Ole Miss opens the 1978 season on Sept. 9 against Memphis State in Jackson.

SAFETY CHIEF

Robert A. Wendell has been named regional administrator for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) according to Eula Bingham, the U.S. Labor Department's assistant secretary for OSHA. Wendell will administer the Williams-Steiger Occupational Safety and Health Act in eight Southeastern states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee. The act, which became effective in 1971, covers every employer in a business affecting commerce.

Corps' River body to meet in Vicksburg

Members of the Mississippi River Commission will hold a one-day meeting in Vicksburg on August 17, 1978.

During the session, the commissioners will receive a report from Major General R. C. Marshall, commission president, on status of the Mississippi River and Tributaries Project.

They will also consider the status of the General Investigation program for the Mississippi River and Tributaries and a report on the Bushley Bayou, Louisiana flood control project.

The Mississippi River Commission meeting will be held in its headquarters building, 1400 Walnut Street, and will be open to the public for observation, but not for participation.

Horticulture chairman guides August gardens

By MRS. C. A. WOOD
MISSISSIPPI GARDEN CLUBS

August is a good time to plant seeds of many perennials in order to have established plants of good size to go through the winter for flowering next spring. Plant seeds of Gerber, daisies, hollyhock, pansies, Sweet Williams, Forget-me-nots, larkspur, nasturtiums and calendulas.

Divide daylilies to establish new plants. A piece of root with a cluster of leaves cut back to 6 or 8 inches will make a new plant. Plant divisions 12 inches apart and keep moist until re-rooted. Continue to divide bearded iris this month.

Lightly prune and fertilize roses to promote more beautiful flowers throughout the fall months. You can also root cuttings taken at this time of year.

Remove old mulch around plants and replace with new material. Water during dry weather.

Make your last pinch on chrysanthemums early this month.

It's time to begin disbudding common camellias to increase flower size. Remove all but one of the rounded flowerbuds at each stem tip.

Remove faded flowers from crepe myrtles to encourage a second bloom this fall.

Continue to give frequent soakings to newly transplanted trees and shrubs through August.

Cuttings of geraniums, coleus, begonia and sultana can be rooted now for use as indoor plants for this winter.

Root cuttings in a rooting medium of equal parts perlite and moistened peat moss. Keep moist, not wet, until signs of growth and rooting are apparent, then pot the cuttings in 6-inch pots.

Start watching for lawn grass damage done by fall armyworms. These worms chew grass blades and can strip plants of their foliage in a short time giving the lawn a dead appearance. The armyworm can be controlled with Sevin. Be sure to follow label directions.

Continue collecting seed pods of native and wild plants to use in dried arrangements. Be on the lookout for dock and seed pods from Red Bud, Locust, Yellow Poplar, Chinese Parasol tree, Water Locust and Cattails. Lots of the grasses have seedheads that can be used in these arrangements.

For a fall vegetable garden plant broccoli, cabbage, bush green beans, carrots, beets, Irish potatoes and turnips. Keep seedbeds moist until seeds germinate.

Flavor Secrets

by Les Porring

QUICK BARBECUE SAUCES

Need a quick and delicious barbecue sauce? Here's a tip: Begin with a bottle of Lea & Perrins Worcestershire sauce. This is a good flavor base because it contains a dozen or more savory ingredients, skillfully blended and well aged. You can even use the sauce straight from the bottle as a brush on. Or, try these simple combinations.

SWEET AND SOUR BARBECUE SAUCE

3 tablespoons original Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons honey
1/2 teaspoon catsup
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Combine all ingredients. Use to baste chicken or ham steaks. YIELD: about 1/2 cup.

SAVORY BARBECUE SAUCE

1/4 cup original Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup salad oil
1/4 cup white vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients. Use as a marinade or baste for chicken. YIELD: 1/4 cup.

QUICK BARBECUE SAUCE

1 can (10 1/2 oz) condensed tomato soup, undiluted
1 bottle (5 oz) original Worcestershire sauce

Combine both ingredients. Use as a brush-on for hamburgers or chicken. YIELD: about 2 cups.

One of the two events that takes place at our Center every month will be held on Monday, at 1:30 p.m. It is our Social Hour, an event that gives our Seniors an opportunity to relate to each other what they have been doing for the past month, plus participate in the game sessions, in which prizes are awarded to the winners of the various games.

It is wonderful to see the big turn out that we have each month, without your support and increased attendance, plus the enthusiasm you show at these functions, they would not be successful. It gives all of us that work at the Center, a feeling of great satisfaction, to know that the programs we have planned for you, meet with your approval.

We can never thank our merchants in Hancock County enough for their contributions to our Social Hour and birthday parties held every month at our Center. Not only the merchants, but fraternal organizations have also contributed to our two events mentioned above.

Our Center is supported by the State Department of Public Welfare, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Cities of Bay St. Louis, and Waveland, and the United Way.

The United Way has been one of our ardent supporters since the Senior Citizens Program was initiated in Hancock County in 1972.

It is that time of the year again when the United Way will seek your help in contributing to this great cause. To those of us who can please contribute what you are able to this great organization, which has supported us so well throughout these years.

Just remember, when the volunteers call at your home or business, that there is no contribution to small or large. Just think of it this way, maybe you and I cannot give a large amount separately, but our united small gifts make one large gift. This is once again an opportunity for us to give our share to our community. Remember, that powerful Widow's might.

Speaking of assets to our community, there is a group of unsung heroes, the volunteers known as RSVP. There can never be enough said about this group of Seniors, all 60 and above years young.

A unit of the Senior Citizens program, nationally known as the Retired Senior Volunteer Program, the group is made up of these Seniors who unselfishly give many hours of their valuable time, not only to help the individual in an hour of need, but also the many organizations of our Hancock County that dwell on service to the community.

HERE AND THERE: At various times by means of this column, we will convey bits of information that we hope will be beneficial to you! The Privacy Act.

How It Affects You
1. How you can get information about yourself that Social Security has in its files.
2. How you can be sure that records about you are kept confidential.

The Federal Privacy Act of 1974, helps answer both questions. It gives people the right to inspect records about themselves, that are maintained by Federal Agencies; and it provides safeguards against misuse or unauthorized disclosures of these records.

Any person requesting access, copies or corrections of his or her personal records must provide proof of identity, along with a written request for a particular record.

Blanket requests for unspecified information are not accepted. To aid people in identifying specific records, Social Security offices have indexed staff manuals, instructions, and other materials for easy reference. The Material shows the address where requests should be submitted.

An individual generally can authorize access to his or her files by a representative. This Authorization must be in writing, dated, and signed by the person represented. This Authorization, also must specify the records, the representative may examine. Under Social Security regulations, a person can authorize only one representative to act on his or her behalf.

Multiple representatives or groups cannot represent an individual. However, a member of an organization or club may be a representative if he or she acts as an individual, and not as an agent or employee of a group.

BAY ST. LOUIS
Mrs. Bertha Miller celebrated her 98th birthday, Tuesday, August 8th. Mrs. Miller, who is quite active for her age, had two birthday parties. Her relatives who came from California, Louisiana, and Hancock County, held a surprise party for her, at her son's home August 6.

She received congratulatory telephone calls from all of her grandchildren from all over the United States. A not so little bird told us that one of the calls was from Music City U.S.A., Nashville, Tennessee.

A buffet dinner consisting of turkey, ham, a large variety of vegetables, condiments, rolls, several beverages, and last but not least, the very festive cake held its place of honor before all the guests.

A very deserving lady, Mrs. Miller was again surprised on the real anniversary of her birth, Tuesday, August 8th, by her friends and neighbors with another party at her residence complete with another cake and all the trimmings suitable to the occasion.

We add our congratulations to you on this, your day, of days, Mrs. Miller, and we are sincerely looking forward to again reporting all the festivities that will be taking place on your hundredth anniversary, year after next.

One of our Day Care Center's most active members, Mrs. Esther Cuevas, her sister Mrs. Lucy May Wheat, and her niece Audrey DiCostino, traveled to California to visit her daughter Rosemary, and son-in-law Richard Martin on the occasion of the wedding of her grandson, Larry Martin.

The marriage was solemnized at St. Michael's Church in San Jose, Calif. The reception held at the home of the bride's parents was wonderful and, according to Esther, the champagne flowed like water.

They visited a lot of the country's most beautiful spots for scenery including the Grand Canyon, which held our travelers in awe; plus, they dined at the world famous Fisherman's Wharf. They traveled by bus all the way, and as gleefully reported by Esther she didn't even get tired, and would like to do it all again.

With our Esther, who is close to 100 of a century, in her life there will never be a dull moment.

From time to time as space and time allows, we will try to write a few words of explanation to acquaint everyone with some of the different phases of Our Senior Programs.

INFORMATION AND REFERRAL
First to answer the questions, "What is the basic function of Information and Referral Services?"

Receiving inquiries, and determining the nature of the information sought by callers, or the nature of the services they require.

Outreach into the community to assess the needs of the elderly, and inform them of services available to them. Outreach work will be continued as long as time and funds are available.

The above information is only a couple of the basic elements implemented in this program. At the Webb Center located on the corner of Third and Citizens Street, Bay St. Louis, we have a very competent staff of workers and volunteers: Gloria Madres, coordinator for Hancock County; Edith Chevis, Wilma Miller, and Irma Cuevas, are all there to serve you. We salute I&R's newest volunteer, welcome aboard Mrs. Lucille Witter, who will be donating 32 hours a week of her time, so as we can all see she is a very dedicated lady.

The above staff members extend an open invitation to all Seniors, or those 59 years old who will be 60, to come on up and see us sometime. The office hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday.

BREAVEMENT
We were sorry to hear of the demise of Evelyn Gourley on Friday, August 4th. She was 63 years of age, an active volunteer since our beginning in 1972 here at the Center. She was a retired registered nurse, so Evelyn was dedicated to the needs of her fellow man all of her life. She will be missed by all, especially her smile, and great wit.

Baptist Senior group schedules meet

The Senior Adults Fun and Fellowship Group of Bay St. Louis First Baptist Church will meet Thursday at 11 a.m. at the home of the pastor Rev. Nathan Barber, 106 Bay View Court.

The group met last week in the church's Fellowship Hall, for a program including luncheon and a "mini-concert" by Peggy Tedford on piano, according to Elva Ward, reporter.

LIGHTS OUT - Mississippi Power Company workmen were busy Saturday night replacing transformer which blew out and left St. Clare's Annual Church Fair without most of their lights. The Fair went on with the use of Coleman Lanterns, flash lights, etc. A spokesman for Mississippi Power said an apparent overload caused the transformer to burn out. (Staff photo - Randy Ponder)

By S. Grady Thigpen (b. 1890)

Thigpen celebrates his 88th, tells advantages of later years

Another year has passed by; another birthday has come around, and its time to turn another page in the book of life.

The flow of time is NOT smooth, and regularly spaced like the days of the year on the calendar hanging on my wall. It is more like the course of a river, now rapid and rought as in flood time; now slow; smooth and tranquil. To look from the river bank at any given point gives no idea of the river as a whole. Douglas Mallock takes a look backward at life in the following lines:

Youth, they say, is forever gone;
NONE of yesterday's can last.

Life is swift - we must hurry on,
and think no more of the ended past.

BUT we sit, when the lights are low,
Into the fading fire we gaze,
Dreaming dreams of the long ago,
Just for the sake of other days.

Church and Mother and Home and Dad,
The grass road, and the village school,
The simple pleasures that once we had,
The silent woods and quiet pool -
Into the hearts of weary men
Comes a vision of country ways,
Leaving us fresh and clean again,
Just for the sake of other days.

Life is swift - we must hurry on,
Hurry on with the whirling stream;
Another night, and another dawn
Brings ambition and hope and scheme.
Yet, the things of the past abide,
Something sweeter and better stays -
And many from sin shall turn aside,
Just for the sake of other days.

A person born in 1890 has seen a lot even if he has never left the community of his birth. Tremendous changes have come in the last 80 years. I well remember a mode of life entirely different from today. The boys and girls of today are living in a different world from the one I grew up in.

Back in my boyhood days, a man of 65 years old and older would have a long white beard, carry a walking stick and appear as an old man, almost without exception, and a man 88 seemed to me like a really old man. I do not believe that men today so easily give up to the inconveniences that are natural to growing older. More men are staying active and thus stay in better health and live longer.

I have found that as a man grows older, he becomes more calm, more collected and LESS apt to be disturbed by the events of the day. In other words he learns to take things as they come without getting too excited over what happens. Some old men made this statement: "I am an old man and have seen many troubles, and MOST OF THEM ... NEVER happened."

Tennyson must have been up in years when he wrote the following lines:
"And I must work through
Style-A-Thon

Friends of the Hancock County Library System will be beneficiaries of a style-a-thon to be conducted Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Shears Delight US-90 next to the Bay St. Louis Library.
Minimum donation will be $5 for shampoo and style-cut, plus $1 for blow-dry, according to John Miller of the salon.
Friends of the Library will be selling surplus library books, food and beverages.

months of toll
And years of cultivation
Upon my proper patch of soil,
To grow my own plantation.
I'll take the showers as they fall,
I will not vex my bosom;
Enough, if at the end of all,
A little garden blossom."

I have learned that he who forms habits of thrift and industry in his younger days profits much from such habits when he is older. "He that gathereth in summer, says the proverb, 'is a wise son, but he that sleepeth in the harvest is a son that causeth shame.' A comfortable old age is the reward of a well spent youth.

A man now up in his seventies told me recently, "I wish I had planted my land in pine trees 20 years ago." I said to him, "Why don't you do it now?" to which he replied, "It's too late now for me to be planting trees. I am too old to benefit from them."

In contrast to this, Noah was 600 years old before he learned to build an ark. An ancient philosopher, very late in life, took up the study of geometry. "At your age, is it a time to be learning?" someone is reported to have asked him. "If it is not," he replied, "When will it be a good time for me to learn?"

"NOTHING is too late, till the tired heart shall cease to beat," said Longfellow. He gave some examples in a poem that are worth repeating:
"Cato learned Greek at 80;
Sophocles
Wrote his grand Oedipus, and Simondeus
Bore off the prize of verse from his compeers,
When each had numbered more than 80 years,
And Theophrastus, at four score and ten,
Had begun his Characters of Men.
Chaucer at Woodstock with the nightingales,
At sixty wrote the Canterbury Tales;
Goethe at Weimar, toiling to the last,
Completed Faust when 80 years were past."
Continuing, Longfellow pointed out, "Even the oldest tree some fruit may bear."

Prof. Pitkin gave many examples of accomplishments late in life in his book, "Life begins at Forty." "Handle wrote the 'Messiah' when fifty-six," he noted.
"In painting, Leonardo did Mona Lisa considered the world's greatest painting, at fifty-four while Michael Angelo's most tremendous conceptions were projected into paint between his 59th and 89th years."

Padarewski at 79 played the piano superbly, and John Wesley at 88 preached every day. Benjamin Franklin represented the U.S. in France after 80. It is never too late to do worthwhile things. An old English proverb says, "If you wish good advice, consult an old man."

Benjamin Franklin wrote, "at 20 years of age the will reigns at 30 the wit; at 40 and older judgment." Henry Amiel wrote, "To know how to grow old is the masterpiece of wisdom, and one of the most difficulty chapters in the great art of life."

A sad thing about growing old is that so many old friends, and relatives pass away. I note in the papers the death of many people along about my age and younger. J. R. Lowell wrote on his 88th birthday this verse:
"As life runs on, the road grows strange
With faces new, and near the end
The milestones into headstones change
"Neath every one a friend."

I have often wondered why it is that some men are in worse condition, physically at 55 or 60 than other men at 80 to 90 and even older. I call to mind a man who lived in Picayune who was most active both mentally and physically up to a ripe old age, while another man at about 60 was in much worse condition. Mortimer Collins wrote:
"O why should our age be revealing?
Leave that to the registry books!
A man is as old as he's feeling,
And a woman as old as she looks."

And someone has said, "Old Age takes from the man of intellect no qualities save those which are useless to wisdom. I love everything that's old: old friends, old times, old manners, old books, old wine." Another has said, "Age is a crown of glory when it is adorned with righteousness."

I have always liked to talk to old people, to real old people. They have learned the wisdom that only life teaches - the wisdom that comes only with age and experience. Their thoughts have matured and their philosophy of life has mellowed.

They set a good example, to those who are younger, in tolerance, temperance and in how to live. I never talk to one of these old people without having a feeling of having been blessed, and of having profited from this fellowship with age and experience. These old people are the balance wheel of our society. H. G. Wells wrote this poem, GROWING OLD:
A little more tired at the close of day,
A little less anxious to have our way;
A little less anxious to scold and blame,

A little more care for a brother's name;
And SO we are nearing the journey's end,
Where time and eternity meet and blend.

A little less care for bonds and gold,
A little more zest in the days of old;
A broader view and a saner mind,
And a little more love for all mankind,
And so we are faring down the way
That leads to the gates of a better day.

A little more love for the friends of youth
A little less zeal for established truth;
A little more charity in our views,
A little less thirst for the daily news;
And SO we are folding our tents away
And passing in silence at close of day.

A little more leisure to sit and dream,
A little more real the things unseen;
A little nearer to those ahead,
With visions of those long-loved and dead;
And so we are going where all must go,
To the place the living may never know.

A little more laughter, a few more tears,
And we shall have told our increasing year;
The book is closed and the prayers are said,
And we are a part of the countless dead.
Thrice happy, if THEN some soul can say,
I LIVE because HE has passed my way."
I have found as I have grown older, I live more and more in the past. I often linger in memory over the years when my children were babies, when they were growing up and with what sadness I saw them leave home. Growing old would be sad for me indeed without my memories of other days.

Poems are the music of the soul. I found this poem, clipped it out and have read it many, many times, the title is:
THE MORE THE YEARS
The more the years, the more we all remember
Our yesterdays, the things that used to be;
The summertime seems fairer in December,
And roses fade, and thinks how empty age is,
With only dreams of things of long ago;
But we who sit and turn leaf's lovely pages,
What joy we know!
The more the years, the more our sorrows soften,
The more the years, the more they turn to gold;
Yes, life's a tale, though told however often,
That fairer grows every time its told.
Youth its today, and youth is young and clever,
Age has only yesterday's of smiles and tears;
And yet, the past grows lovelier forever,
The more the years.

Hancock Historical Society pursues National Registry

Miss Adele Cramer, architectural historian, Department of Archives and History, Jackson, was special guest at a meeting of the board of directors of Hancock County Historical Society Monday at Gulf National Bank.

Prior to the meeting Miss Cramer, accompanied by Mrs. Peggy Giveans, historic sites chairman, made a visual survey of all buildings in Bay St. Louis to determine which are significant for entry into the National Register of Historic Places by the Department of Archives and History.

The buildings must possess integrity of location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feelings and association.

Upon approval of these buildings for the National Register, owners of income producing properties, commercial and residential, may take advantage of the 1976 tax reform act.

The act encourages rehabilitation of buildings and vitalization of neighborhoods, allowing a community to have a strong identity and a sense of concern for culture, as well as the role of buildings in the community.

The act is designed to create total vitalization, attracting new residents and investors, and engendering a strong economy base in the older neighborhoods.

Band Aides to open school year

First meeting of the school year for the Tiger Pride Band Aides will be held August 29 in the audio-visual room of Bay High at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Carolyn Hamilton, new assistant band director, will be introduced at this meeting. An invitation is extended to all band parents and interested friends of the public school band to attend the meeting and meet Mrs. Hamilton, according to Bay High Band Director Glen Page. Director of music in the elementary schools, Al Shepherd, will also attend.

Following the business meeting, refreshments will be served.

Regular meetings of the Band Aides are held the last Tuesday evening of each month throughout the school year. Band members, parents, and others interested in the bands are invited to attend.

Military Mentions

KEN W. MEYERS

Airman Kenneth W. Meyers, son of U.S. Navy Master Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. Whitney Meyers of 102 Jamaica St., Long Beach, has graduated at Lackland AFB, Tex., from Air Force basic training.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned him credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Meyers is a 1978 graduate of Long Beach High School.

DAVID COLLIS

Airman David M. Collis, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Collis of 109 Ann St., Long Beach, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

Airman Collis will now receive specialized training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

He is a 1978 graduate of Long Beach High School.

First Sgt. Nervin J. Dedaux, son of Mrs. Effie J. Dedaux, 349 Morton Ave., Pass Christian, recently was graduated from the U.S. Army Sergeants Major Academy at Fort Bliss, Texas.

The Sergeants Major Academy is the senior level of the Army's noncommissioned officer system. The 22-week course prepares selected noncommissioned officers for positions of greater responsibility.

Selection for attendance at the Academy is made by a Department of the Army board from among noncommissioned officers with less than 24 years of service who have demonstrated the highest standards of performance and job proficiency.

Dedaux, a first sergeant with the 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N.C., entered the Army in August 1952.

His wife, Carolyn, is with him in North Carolina.

DeMolay Conclave in Long Beach names new officers

More than 200 DeMolays and sponsors competed in various events during the 1978 Mississippi Jurisdictional DeMolay Conclave July 20-23 on the USM Gulf Coast Regional Campus in Long Beach.

This Conclave Program was sponsored by the Long Beach Chapter and was directed by J. C. Morgan. It was dedicated to the memory of Dad A. Haywood Hooker.

As the week progressed new state officers were chosen and individuals were given the opportunity to compete in various events. On the final day installation of officers and presentation of awards took place.

The 1978-79 State Officers are Eugene Martino Jr. of Biloxi, jurisdictional master counselor; Jay Anthony of Ocean Springs, jurisdictional senior counselor; Tony McNair of the Capital Chapter, Jackson, jurisdictional junior counselor; Robert Secune of Biloxi, Scribe; David Heath of Biloxi, illustrious knight commander; Jerry Dodge of Ocean Springs, squire commander; Mark Dunaway of Gulfport, page commander; Also, Diane Lathan of Ocean Springs, priory mom; Jonell Anthony of Ocean Springs, priory sweetheart; Bonnie Davis of Long Beach, state mom; Eugene Martino of Biloxi, state dad; Eugene Martino of Biloxi, advisor of the year; Diane Blackoof Jackson, Ms Conclave '78; Angela Estrada of Gulfport, state sweetheart; Vertie Napier of Picayune, big sister; and Debbie Harris of Jackson; little sister.

Chapter of the Year Award was presented to Mississippi Chapter from Meridian.

This conclave was unique in many ways, but to make it even more special, the Official Line of officers of the Grand Lodge of Mississippi was present for the first time.

Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Blaize, their son Gary and Miss Diane Adams were Sunday guests of their son-in-law and daughter Dr. and Mrs. Louis Naman and children in Mobile, Ala. Joining them for the day were their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Blaize and children, also of Mobile.

Dr. and Mrs. Michael Cardin and sons Michael II and Shawn of Seattle, Wash., are visiting for awhile with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cardin.

The best reason in the world for checking at Hancock Bank

Well, one of them anyway. It's HandyBank, the 24-hour teller that does more than any other 24-hour teller around.

When you open a checking account at Hancock Bank, one of the first things you'll get is a HandyCard.

Your HandyCard allows you to use all the Hancock Bank HandyBanks anytime you please. And it's the only way you can use these terrific 24-hour tellers.

(Your HandyCard is NOT a credit card, but it's something you'll always want to have in your billfold.)

With HandyBanks, you can withdraw up to $500 in cash in $10 and $20 increments from your checking or savings account, make deposits and loan payments or find out your balance down to the very last penny.

What's more, HandyBanks are easy to operate. While you take care of your business, a special electronic display panel will give you step-by-step instructions.

If you're not checking at Hancock Bank right now, you ought to check into it.

You'll find we have a lot more to offer than our convenient 24-hour HandyBanks.

As if that weren't reason enough in the first place.

Come see us today.
